

Securities Class Action Services

Industry Leading Securities Litigation Research and Claims Filing Services

Billions of dollars each year are recoverable by investors in securities class action law suits. Yet, the reality is that in many cases well under 50% of eligible claims are filed. In other words, investors are leaving millions if not billions of settlement dollars on the table. Not only do institutional investors have a fiduciary responsibility to monitor such suits and file claims on behalf of their clients, but it makes good business sense to recover substantial assets lost due to fraud.

SCAS uniquely combines comprehensive securities class action coverage, subject matter expertise and operational excellence to provide investors with a fully outsourced solution.
